

TARGET-90

JKBOSE CLASS-11TH

GRAMMAR AND
EDITING

ONE SHOT

ENGLISH

Hussain Sir

Topics To Be Covered

- 1 Punctuation
- 2 Conjunction
- 3 Preposition
- 4 Determiners
- 5 Tenses
- 6 Modals
- 7 Passage Editing

Complete 8 marks.

PUNCTUATION

Punctuation

- Punctuation marks are used in writing to separate sentences and parts of sentences and clarify the meaning of the sentence.
- Punctuation helps to separate different elements from each other or to make writing more clear.
- Punctuation is the tool that allows us to organize our thoughts and make it easier to review and share our thoughts.

Different Punctuation Marks

Full Stop	(.)
Comma	(,)
Colon	(:)
Semi colon	(;)
Question Mark	(?)
Exclamation	(!)
Apostrophe	(')
Quotation mark	(" ")
Dash	(-)
Parentheses	()
Ellipsis	(...)
Slash	(\)

Terminal Punctuation marks

Terminal Punctuation marks are used to end sentences. There are three Terminal Punctuation Marks.

- Full Stop/Period (.)
- Question Mark (?)
- Exclamation Mark (!)

Uses of Full Stop

(i) Full stops end declarative sentences and requests or mild commands.

Declarative: His name is Ali.

Request or Mild Command: Please be sure to tell her I am coming.

(ii) Full Stops are used to end most abbreviations except for acronyms and abbreviations which are pronounced.

N.G.O. (American English) NGO (British English)

Acronyms: SARRC, NATO.

Terminal Punctuation marks

- (iii) If a sentence ends with an abbreviation, no additional period is needed. If the sentence requires a question mark or exclamation point, one may be added after the period.

Incorrect: I know the full form of N.G.O..

(Second period at end not needed)

Correct: I know the full form of N.G.O.

Correct: Do you know the full form of N.G.O.?

- (iv) A period always comes before a closing quotation mark.

Incorrect: George said, "I don't get it".

Correct: George said, "I don't get it."

QUESTION MARK

- (i) Question marks end all direct questions. This includes incomplete questions and statements intended as questions.

Direct Question: What is your name?

Incomplete Question: Really? When? No kidding?

Statement Intended as Question: Your name is Ali? (It shows uncertainty)

- (ii) Sentences which describe a question but do not directly ask a question are called indirect questions. They do not take a question mark.

Incorrect: He asked if he could leave early?

(Describes but does not ask a question)

Correct: He asked if he could leave early.

Correct: He asked, "May I leave early?"

(In the last one, the question is directly quoted.)

QUESTION MARK

(iii) Use a question mark in parentheses after a point of fact to show uncertainty about it.

Example: His great-great-grandfather (^{uncertainty}Nelson Bridger?) supposedly fought in the Black Hawk War.

Example: Chaucer was born in 1343 (?).

(Note: that a question mark used this way is not an end mark. A period is still needed.)

Exclamation Point

- (i) Sometimes called the exclamation mark, the exclamation point is used at the end of a sentence or after an interjection to show strong emotion or emphasis.

Exclamatory sentence: The rain did not stop for four days! ✓

Strong command: Be back at ten o'clock or else! ✗

Interjection: Wow! ✗

Exclamation Point

- (ii) When an emphatic interjection or direct address begins a sentence, you may use an exclamation point or a comma, depending on how much you want to show the strong emotion.

Correct: No, I don't want to go there. ↗

Correct, more emotion: No, I don't want to go there! ✓

Correct, even more emphasis: No! I don't want to go there!

Beware of overusing exclamation points. Using them too frequently makes them less meaningful.

Pauses

Pauses tell the reader to stop briefly and then continue reading.

Following are the three main pauses:

- Comma (,)
- Colon (:)
- Semicolon(;)
- Comma (,)

(i) Comma is used to separate items in a list. For example,
We need to buy milk, sugar, water and tea.

(ii) Comma is used to mark off the addressee from the addressing words.
For example,
Saniya, please bring a cup of tea for me.

(iii) It is used to separate linking words: However, therefore, in fact, for example etc.
Her parents wanted her to be a doctor. However, she had other plans.
This is a great book. In fact, it is one of the best that I have ever read.

Pauses

(iv) Comma is used to connect two clauses. For example.

Dependent clause + independent clause.

When Ahmad gets home from work, he watches TV for an hour.

Rahul watches TV for an hour when he gets home from work.

(v) Put a comma before coordinating conjunction that separates two independent clauses.

[for , and, nor, but , or, yet, so] (fanboys)

My brother is a doctor, and my sister is a teacher.

You can come with me, or you can go home.

(vi) Comma is used to separate parts of dates and addresses. It is also used to separate a street, city and state. For example,

I was born in Srinagar, Kashmir, in 1995.

He travelled from Jammu, India, in 2021 to Delhi.

- Colon (:

Colon is used to introduce things in a series. For example,

If you want to make a cup of tea, You need the following items: water, tea, sugar, milk etc.

My friend's restaurant specializes in four items: Biryani , Kaanti , Pizza, Shorma.

(i) Colon (:) is used to introduce information after an independent clause.

The English Marathon covered many topics: punctuation, modals, tenses, narration etc.

(ii) Colon is used to express time in figures. For example,

4 : 30 pm, 6 : 30 pm etc.

- Semi-Colon (;)

(i) Semicolon is used to combine closely related sentences. For example,

I thought it was easy; she thought it was difficult.

I thought it was easy, but she thought it was difficult.

Note: we can use comma and conjunction to connect two independent clauses.

(ii) Semicolon is used to join sentences that are using conjunctive adverbs. For example,

Her parents wanted her to be a doctor; however, she had other plans.

Her parents wanted her to be a doctor. However, she had other plans.

This is an important book. In fact, it is one of the best books that I have ever read.

This is a great book; in fact, it is one of the best books that I have ever read.

Note: Both the sentences have the same meaning. If we use semicolon instead of full stop, the second clause of the sentence should begin with a lower case letter because it is now the part of the same sentence.

Semicolon makes the clause look more connected.

Apostrophe (')

- (i) An apostrophe is a punctuation mark used to create a contraction or to show possession. For Example,

It is or it has = it's

They are = they're

It is Nasir's pen.

Ahmad's book.

Singular noun - is
Plural nouns s'

NOTE: If the plural of the word is formed by adding "s", place the apostrophe after the "s". For example

The Duchess' cook.

Boys' Hostel.

Quotation Mark (“ ”)

- (i) Quotation marks/inverted commas are used to mark off the actual words of a speaker. For example,
He said, “I like to help my parents.”
- (ii) Single quotation marks are used to indicate quotations/important phrases/titles within a quotation. For example,
He said, “I read the chapter ‘light’ yesterday.”
Ahmad said, “He is like a ‘wolf among the sheep’. We must remain cautious.”

CONJUNCTION

What is a Conjunction?

- A conjunction is a word that is used to connect words, phrases, clauses, or sentences.
- It helps in joining ideas to make our language smooth, logical, and less repetitive.
- In short: A conjunction is a joining word.
- Shows the relationship between the connected parts (such as addition, contrast, cause, choice, or condition).

Examples:

- Ali and Ahmad are brothers.
- She is rich, but not proud.
- I will help you if you need me.

Types of Conjunction?

1. Coordinating Conjunctions

They join two words, phrases, or independent clauses of equal importance.

They do not make one part dependent on the other.

Mnemonic: FANBOYS

- For → reason (I stayed home, for it was raining.)
- And → addition (She is kind and helpful.)
- Nor → negative addition (He cannot sing, nor can he dance.)
- But → contrast (He is poor, but honest.)
- Or choice (Do you prefer tea or coffee?)
- Yet → contrast (It was raining, yet he went out.)
- So → result (It was late, so we left early.)

Types of Conjunction?

2. Subordinating Conjunctions

They join a main (independent) clause with a subordinate (dependent) clause.

They show the relationship of time, cause, condition, concession, comparison, or purpose.

Examples with Functions:

Cause/Reason: because, since, as

(She didn't go to school because she was ill.)

Time: when, while, after, before, until, as soon as (I was cooking when he arrived.)

Types of Conjunction?

2. Subordinating Conjunctions

Examples with Functions:

Condition: if, unless, provided that
(You will succeed if you work hard.)

Contrast/Concession: although, though, even though, whereas (Although he is rich, he lives a simple life.)

Purpose: so that, in order that, lest
(He worked hard so that he could pass.)

Comparison: as, than
(She is taller than her brother.)

Types of Conjunction?

3. Correlative Conjunctions

They always work in pairs.

They connect two balanced or parallel parts of a sentence.

Common Pairs:

Either ... or → (You can either stay home or go out.)

Neither ... nor → (Neither Ali nor Ahmed was present.)

Both ... and → (She is both intelligent and hardworking.)

Not only ... but also → (He is not only rich but also generous.)

Whether ... or → (I don't know whether he will come or not.)

A golden, ornate frame with four decorative scrolls at the corners, enclosing the text.

PREPOSITION

Preposition

- A preposition is a word placed before a noun or pronoun to show its relation with another word in the sentence. It indicates direction, position, time, cause, manner, means, possession, etc.
- The word itself comes from pre (before) + position (placed).

Examples:

- The book is on the table.
- He came from Delhi.
- She is waiting for you.
- Here, on, from, for are prepositions because they connect nouns/pronouns to the rest of the sentence.

Important Features of Prepositions

1. Always followed by a noun/pronoun/gerund.

She is fond of music.

He is good at swimming.

2. Never alone – always part of a phrase.

In the garden, at home, on the table.

3. Same word can be used as different prepositions depending on meaning.

He is in the room. (place)

He will return in an hour. (time)

Types of Prepositions

A. Based on Use (Function)

1. Prepositions of Place/Position (where something is) at, in, on, under, over, between, among, near, by, behind

Example: The ball is under the chair.

2. Prepositions of Direction/Movement (where something goes) to, into, onto, towards, from, out of, along, across, through

Example: She walked into the room.

Types of Prepositions

3. Prepositions of Time (when something happens) at, on, in, since, for, from, to, till, until, during, by Example: I will meet you at 6 p.m.

4. Prepositions of Cause, Reason, Purpose

because of, due to, owing to, on account of, for Example: The match was cancelled because of rain.

Types of Prepositions

5. Prepositions of Means/Instrument/Agent

by, with, through, via

Example: He was hit with a stick.

6. Prepositions of Manner/Standard/Measure

by, like, according to, per, about

Example: They are paid by the hour.

Types of Prepositions

7. Prepositions of Possession/Relation of, to, with, about

Example: This is the house of my uncle.

8. Prepositions of Concession/Contrast despite, in spite of, contrary to

Example: He went out in spite of the rain.

A golden, ornate frame with four decorative scrolls at the corners, enclosing the text.

DETERMINERS

Determiners

What are Determiners?

Determiners are words placed before nouns to determine or limit their meaning. They introduce nouns and tell us which, whose, how much, or how many things we are talking about. They are always followed by a noun (directly or indirectly).

Example:

This book is interesting. (“this” tells us which book)

Many students are absent today. (“many” tells us how many students)

Determiners

Functions of Determiners

1. They specify the reference of a noun. (Which one? Whose?)
2. They show quantity. (How much/many?)
3. They show definiteness or indefiniteness. (The, a, an)
4. They express possession. (My, your, his)
5. They express distribution. (Each, every)

Kinds of Determiners

1. Articles
2. Possessive Adjectives
3. Demonstrative Adjectives
4. Distributive Adjectives
5. Quantifiers (Adjectives of Quantity and Number)
6. Interrogative Adjectives

Kinds of Determiners

Articles	Possessive Adj.	Demonstrative s	Distributive	Quantifiers
a an the	My Your His Her Its Our Your Their	This That These Those	Each Every Either Neither	Some Any Every More Much Few Little	First Second Third Last Next	One Two Three Four Twenty Fifty Hundred

Articles

Indefinite Article

Use of a

Before a word beginning with a consonant.

E.g.- a woman, a year, a hero, a history..

Before a vowel which has a sound of yu, wa.

E.g.- a union, a unit, a one-rupee note..

With singular countable noun-

E.g.- Sam is reading a magazine.

With common noun in singular number

E.g.- This is a table.

We can adjectives between the articles and the nouns.

E.g.- This a lovely dress.

But a common noun in the singular number doesn't have an article before it, when it is used in general sense

E.g.- Man is mortal.

Articles

Indefinite Article

Use of an

Word beginning with a vowel(a, e, i, o, u).

E.g.- an elephant, an enemy, an inkpot

Words beginning with a silent h.

E.g.- an hour, an honest man, an heir

When we speak of a person or a thing for the first time we generally use 'a' or 'an' -

E.g.- A man saw a boy riding on an ass.

But when we use the same person or thing a second time we use 'the' -

E.g.- The man punished the boy riding on the ass.

Indefinite Article

Use of the

When we refer some particular person or thing.

E.g.- Let us go the club.

The boy enjoys his own company.

The book is in my bag.

When a singular noun is used to indicate whole class.

E.g.- The dog is a faithful animal.

Before the names of rivers, seas, oceans, gulfs, mountain ranges and group of islands

Newspaper, sacred books

Before directions

Before races or nations

Before superlative degree and Ordinal Numeral Adjectives

Articles

Indefinite Article

Omission of the

Proper Nouns, as Towns, Countries, Persons, Peaks, Streets, Days of the week, Month of the year

Used for meals	Breakfast
Used for sports and games	Tennis
Used for planets	Jupiter
Used for names of people, books and plays (unless it is part of the title)	Romeo and Juliet
Used for Lakes	Lake Victoria
Used for mountains	Mount Everest
Used for single Islands	Jamaica

Indefinite Article

Omission of the

When we use the before proper noun, they become common nouns-

E.g.- Kashmir is the Switzerland of India.

Names of material nouns-

E.g.- Neither gold nor silver is found here. Clothes are made of cotton, silk and wool

But we say,

The cotton of Egypt is superior to that of India.

Abstract nouns used in general sense

E.g.- Health is better than wealth Honesty is the best policy.

But we say,

I praise the honesty of this boy.

Possessive Adjectives

They show possession or belonging.

They tell 'whose' is the thing.

my, your, his, her, its, our, their, whose

Examples:

My brother is a doctor.

Whose bag is this?

Demonstrative Adjectives

Show which object/person is being referred to.

this, that, these, those

Used to point out things.

Examples:

This book is mine. (near + singular)

These books are new. (near + plural)

That boy is tall. (far + singular)

Those houses look old. (far + plural)

Demonstrative Adjectives

Refer to members of a group individually.

each, every, either, neither

Examples:

Each student got a gift. (focus on individuals)

Every house has a garden. (whole group considered)

Either road leads to the village. (one of two)

Neither answer is correct. (not one, not the other)

Adjectives of Quantity and Number

Tell us quantity/amount.

Some = not exact, but a few/part → I need some water.

Many = large number → Many people were absent.

Few = very small number → Few students passed.

Several = more than two, not many → I visited several places.

Much = uncountable → There isn't much sugar left.

All = the whole → All the students are here.

Enough = sufficient → We have enough money.

No = zero → No student failed.

Adjectives of Quantity and Number

Numbers

Cardinals (1,2,3,...) → show number.

Ordinals (first, second, third,...) → show order.

Examples:

I have two brothers. (Cardinal)

She won the first prize. (Ordinal)

Interrogative Adjectives

They are used with Nouns to ask questions.

Which way shall he take?

Whose book is this?

Which dress would look good on me?

What food would you like to eat?

A decorative, ornate frame made of a thick, golden-yellow line. It features elegant scrolls at the top-left, top-right, and bottom-right corners, and a simple horizontal line at the bottom-left.

TENSES

Tense is derived from Latin word 'Tempus' which means time.

Latin Word – Tempus = Time

➤ DEFINITION

- Tense is that form of a verb that shows the time of an action but also the state of an action or event.
- The tense of the verb tells us when an event or something existed or when a person did something.

➤ Time has three broad categories:

- PAST: Yesterday, two days ago, last month.
- PRESENT: now, today, this moment, this year.
- FUTURE: YET TO BEGIN: tomorrow, next week, next month.

Actions of Four Types

Each time has four types.

PRESENT TENSE

- Present simple/indefinite
- Present continuous/progressive
- Present perfect.
- Present perfect continuous.

PAST TENSE

- Past simple/indefinite
- Past continuous/progressive
- Past perfect.
- Past perfect continuous.

FUTURE TENSE

- Future simple/indefinite
- Future continuous/progressive
- Future perfect.
- Future perfect continuous.

Structure of a sentence.

⇒ Subj + HV + MV + Obj.

Subjects ⇒ Three persons.

⇒ 1st person → I, we

⇒ 2nd person → you

⇒ 3rd person → He/she/it = 3PS

They → 3PP

Noun/pronouns.

→ present simple
→ past simple } Positive

Sub + MV + Obj

present simple ⇒ Subj + V1/Vs + Obj. ^{3PS}
past simple ⇒ Subj + V2 + Obj.

PRESENT TENSE CHART

The present tense is used to talk about actions happening now, happen regularly, or are generally true.

TENSE	STRUCTURE	USAGE	EXAMPLES
1. Present Simple (V1 / V-s/es) Subj + V1/Vs + Obj	Affirmative: S + V1 (s/es) + O Negative: S + do/does not + V1 + O Interrogative: Do/ Does + S + V1 + O? Note: Use 's/es' with he, she, it and singular nouns.	- For habits and routines. - For general truths and facts. - For permanent situations. - For timetables, schedules and programs.	Examples: - I go to school every day. - She reads books in her free time. - The sun rises in the east. - The train leaves at 6 p.m.
2. Present Continuous (am/is/are + V-ing) Sub + is/am + are + ing	Affirmative: S + I am + V-ing + O Negative: S + am/is/are not + V-ing + O Interrogative: Am/Is/Are + S + V-ing + O?	- For actions happening now (at the moment of speaking). - For actions happening around now. - For temporary situations.	Examples: - I am studying right now. - They are playing football. - She is staying with her aunt this week.
3. Present Perfect has/have + V3)	Affirmative: S + has/have + V3 + O Negative: S + has/have not + V3 + O Interrogative: Has/Have + S + V3 + O?	- For actions completed at an unspecified time before now. - For experiences in life. - For actions that started in the past and continue to now.	Examples: - I have finished my homework. - We have visited Paris. - She has lived here since 2020.
4. Present Perfect Continuous (has/have been + V-ing)	Affirmative: S + has/have been + V-ing + O Negative: S + has/have not been + V-ing + O Interrogative: Has/Have + S + been + V-ing + O?	- For actions that started in the past and are still continuing. - For actions that have continued up to now. - For emphasis on duration.	Examples: - I have been studying for two hours. - They have been living in this city for five years. - She has been working all day.

QUICK TIPS

- ✓ Use Present Simple for facts, habits and general truths.
- ✓ Use Present Continuous for actions happening now or around now.
- ✓ Use Present Perfect for experiences or actions completed before now.
- ✓ Use Present Perfect Continuous for actions that continue up to now with emphasis on duration.

PAST TENSE CHART

The past tense is used to talk about actions that were completed in the past.

TENSE	STRUCTURE	USAGE	EXAMPLES
1. Past Simple (V2 / -ed) Snbj + V2 + Obj	Affirmative: S + V2 (past form) + O Negative: S + did not + V1 + O Interrogative: Did + S + V1 + O? Note: Used for completed actions at a specific time in the past.	- For actions completed at a specific time. - For habits in the past. - For a series of completed actions. - With time expressions: yesterday, last week, ago, in 2010, etc.	Examples: - I visited my grandparents last weekend. - She watched a movie yesterday. - They played football in the park. - The train left at 6 p.m. yesterday.
2. Past Continuous 3ps (was/were + V-ing)	Affirmative: S + was/were + V-ing + O Negative: S + was/were not + V-ing + O Interrogative: Was/Were + S + V-ing + O? Note: Used for actions that were in progress at a specific time in the past.	- For actions in progress at a specific time in the past. - For two or more actions happening at the same time. - With time expressions: at that time, while, when, as, etc.	Examples: - I was studying at 8 p.m. yesterday. - They were playing when it started to rain. - She was reading a book while he was sleeping.
3. Past Perfect (had + V3) Snbj + had + V3	Affirmative: S + had + V3 + O Negative: S + had not + V3 + O Interrogative: Had + S + V3 + O? Note: Used for actions completed before another action in the past.	- For actions completed before another past action. - To show cause or result in the past. - With time expressions: before, after, by the time, already, etc.	Examples: - I had finished my homework before dinner. - She had left when I reached there. - They had already eaten when we arrived.
4. Past Perfect Continuous 8th (had been + V-ing)	Affirmative: S + had been + V-ing + O Negative: S + had not been + V-ing + O Interrogative: Had + S + been + V-ing + O? Note: Used for actions that were in progress for some time before another past action.	- For actions that continued up to a point in the past. - For the duration of an action before another past action. - With time expressions: for, since, before, until, by the time, etc.	Examples: - I had been waiting for two hours before the bus came. - She had been living in this city for five years before she moved. - They had been studying for the test all day.

QUICK TIPS

- ✓ Use Past Simple for completed actions at a specific time in the past.
- ✓ Use Past Continuous for actions in progress in the past.
- ✓ Use Past Perfect for actions completed before another past action.
- ✓ Use Past Perfect Continuous for actions that continued up to a point in the past.

FUTURE TENSE CHART

The future tense is used to talk about actions that will happen in the future.

TENSE	STRUCTURE	USAGE	EXAMPLES
1. Future Simple (will / shall + V1) Subj +	Affirmative: S + will/shall + V1 + O Negative: S + will/shall not + V1 + O Interrogative: Will/Shall + S + V1 + O? Note: Use 'shall' with I and we (especially in formal English). Will is used with all.	- For actions that will happen in the future. - For predictions. - For promises, offers, decisions made at the moment of speaking. - For spontaneous decisions.	Examples: - I will visit my uncle tomorrow. - She will help you. - It will rain this evening. Shall we go to the park? - I will call you later.
2. Future Continuous (will be + V-ing) Subj +	Affirmative: S + will be + V-ing + O Negative: S + will not be + V-ing + O Interrogative: Will + S + be + V-ing + O? Note: Used for actions that will be in progress at a specific time in the future.	- For actions that will be happening at a specific time in the future. - For future plans and arrangements. - For temporary situations in the future.	Examples: - I will be studying at 7 p.m. tomorrow. - They will be playing a match at 5 p.m. - She will be staying with her friend this weekend.
3. Future Perfect (will have + V3)	Affirmative: S + will have + V3 + O Negative: S + will not have + V3 + O Interrogative: Will + S + have + V3 + O? Note: Used for actions that will be completed before a specific time in the future.	- For actions that will be completed before another future action or time. - To show cause or result in the future. - With time expressions: by then, before, by next year, by 5 o'clock, etc.	Examples: - I will have finished my work by 6 p.m. - She will have left before you arrive. - They will have completed the project by next month.
4. Future Perfect Continuous (will have been + V-ing)	Affirmative: S + will have been + V-ing + O Negative: S + will not have been + V-ing + O Interrogative: Will + S + have been + V-ing + O? Note: Used for actions that will be in progress for some time before another future time.	- For actions that will continue up to a point in the future. - To show duration of an action before another future time. - With time expressions: for, since, by the time, before, until, etc.	Examples: - I will have been waiting for two hours by the time you arrive. - She will have been working here for five years by 2028. - They will have been studying for two hours before the test begins.

QUICK TIPS

- ✓ Use Future Simple for decisions, promises, predictions and general future actions.
- ✓ Use Future Continuous for actions that will be in progress at a specific time in the future.
- ✓ Use Future Perfect for actions that will be completed before a specific time in the future.
- ✓ Use Future Perfect Continuous for actions that will continue up to a point in the future with emphasis on duration.

A decorative gold-colored frame with ornate scrollwork on the left and right sides, enclosing the text.

MODALS

Modals

A modal verb in English is a type of Auxiliary verb used to express various modes in a sentence such as Possibility, necessity, permission, ability, and obligation.

Modal verbs are a special kind of helping verb. A modal verb helps the main verb to express the mood of the subject.

Different Modal Verbs

Can – could

May – might

Shall – should

Will – would

Must

Ought to

Have to

Need

Rules of Modal Verbs

1. Modal verbs can never be used by themselves. They always need to be used with another verb.
2. A Modal verb is followed by the base form of the verb. MV + V1 + Obj
3. In the negative form, modal verbs are used as they are– without any additional auxiliary verbs.
4. In the Interrogative form, modal verbs are used as they are– without any additional auxiliary verbs like 'do you'.

Modals

CAN

(i) It is used to show ability in the present.

I can do it very easily.

She can write English well.

(ii) Can is used to make a request.

Can you please teach me?

(iii) It is used to take and give permission.

Can I use your pen for a minute.

(iv) It can also be used for general possibilities.

She can be a winner.

Modals

COULD

(i) It is used to show polite request in present.

Could you please do it for me?

(ii) Could is used to show specific Possibilities.

He could be sixteen.

(iii) Could is used to show the Ability in the past.

I ^{could}can do it very easily.

Modals

MAY

(i) Permission with respect.

May I come in?

May u help me?

(ii) Prayer/Expresses a wish

May you live long!

May God bless you!

(iii) More likely possible

He may be coming to see you tomorrow

I have been teaching for long time, I may be tired.

Permission with respect.
Can - 25%
Could - 50%
May → 100%

Modals

MIGHT

(i) It is used to show less possibility.

It might rain today.

It might reveal your secret.

(ii) It is used to ask for permission more casual/less polite way.

Might I ask for a favour?

Modals

Will

(i) Will is used to show future.

I will meet you tomorrow.

(ii) Request and Offers (casual and less polite way)

Will you give me your car?

Will you have some coffee?

(iii) Habits (Characteristic Habits)

He will talk about nothing but cricket.

(iv) Conditionals (Real Situation)

If it rains tomorrow, I will bring my umbrella.

If you stop wasting time, your grades will improve.

Modals

Would

(i) Polite Request

Would you please help me.

Would you please give me a glass of water.

(ii) Future in the past

He told me that he would me rewards.

I was sure that he would pass.

(iii) Fantasy

If I were a bird, I would fly in the sky.

(iv) Wish

I wish, India would become a developed country soon.

SHALL

- (i) It is used for future time reference with first person pronouns (i.e., I and We).
I shall get a first- class in the exam.
- (ii) Command
Those boys shall not enter my office again.
- (iii) Promise
You shall have a holiday tomorrow.
- (iv) Formal Obligation
The students shall pay the fees during the first month of every semester.
- (v) Advice or suggestion
Shall I teach about the modals.

Modals

SHOULD

It is used to show obligation, give opinions and recommendation, give or take advices.

We should help the ones that need help.

He should not play in the next match.

You should start working on your communication skills.

What should I do to get a job?

Modals

MUST

(i) Strong Possibility

It is 10:00 o'clock. The teacher must be in the class.

He must be working in the office now.

(ii) Necessity

You must follow instructions.

I must leave now.

(iii) Determination

I must help him.

India must win the world cup.

Modals

(i) Moral Obligation (ought to)

It is normally used for 'should', when there is strong sense of moral duty.

You ought to serve your motherland.

We ought to love our country.

8 marks.

PASSAGE EDITING

Editing

- (a) a
- (b) an ✓
- (c) The
- (d) none of the above

⇒ 100% concentration

Eight errors in the following passage have been numbered (1) to (8). correct them and write down the corrected forms only against the respective number. (PYQ)

Yesterday ^{an} a ^{old man} old man (1) ^{walked} walk slowly (2) along the street. She was ^{carrying} carry (3) a basket, but she ^{could not} cannot (4) hold it well. Many ^{people} peoples (5) passed by and no one helped her. After ^a a few (6) minutes, a young boy ^{came} come (7) forward and said, "Can I ^{help} helped (8) you grandmother?" She smiled, and the boy held the basket and walked beside her.

errors

- ① a old man
- ② walk slowly
- ③ was carry
- ④ she cannot
- ⑤ many peoples

- ⑥ after few
- ⑦ boy come
- ⑧ Can I helped

Corrected one.

- ① an old man
- ② walked slowly
- ③ was carrying
- ④ she could not
- ⑤ many people

- ⑥ after a few
- ⑦ boy came
- ⑧ Can I help.

Editing

Some grammatical errors in the following passage have been underlined and numbered. Correct them and write down the correct forms only against the respective number.

The Caliph had be told that Abou's wife had died. But the Princess had been told that Abou had died. So both the Caliph and the Princess come (1) to Abou's house. They wanted to find out the truth. When Abou saw them coming, he asked his wife to lay down. Abou, too, lay (2) down in his bed. Both of themselves (3) prentended to be dead. Now a fresh controversy begins (4). The Caliph said that it was Abou's wife which (5) had died first. The Princess said that Abou had died first. Every (6) of them offered a reward to any man who could tell the fact. Abou at once sprung (7) out from (8) his bed.

Editing

Some grammatical errors in the following passage have been underlined and numbered. Correct them and write down the correct forms only against the respective number.

One morning, on (1) September 1928, Fleming was examining the bacterial cultures who (2) had been prepared the night before. Suddenly, he notices (3) a bright green ring on one of them. He was annoyed with (4) this and thought that the experiment had been spoiled. But instead of throw (5) away the 'ruined' culture, he put it under his microscope, curious to know what (6) exactly it had been spoilt. He saw that a mould had grown on it. It was feeding on the culture and destroy (7) it. Moulds are growths of very small plants, which can sometimes be seen in (8) food, leather or old clothes, if they are left for some time in warm moist air.

HOMework

Write down all the corrected answers of the given passages and send your answers in the batch Community.

Prof

Thank
You